[Chapters 11 & 12] Our first concern is our disappointment that the cathedral features so little in the plan; a small number (seven) of largely peripheral mentions, and featuring well down a list of cultural assets. The cathedral is the city's principal tourist and cultural asset, and very largely the reason the city has the importance that it does today; the cathedral is arguably the finest intact example of late decorated gothic architecture in the country, and a major reason why people visit the city. No specific policies within the plan support or enhance the cathedral's role, or allocate the cathedral specific roles within the cultural and visitor offer of the city.

5 (c). Please set out the modification(s) you consider necessary to make this part of the Exeter Plan sound, in respect of any soundness matters you have identified at 5(b) above.

You will need to say why each modification will make this part of the Exeter Plan sound. It will be helpful if you are able to put forward your suggested revised wording for the relevant policy or paragraph. Please be as precise as possible.

We would wish to work with the city council in defining a more bespoke plan for the cathedral's place in the city plan.

(Continue on a separate sheet if necessary)

The cathedral has a significant place in the heart of the city, and its voice is important in crystallising proposals in the two areas we have expressed concern about (culture & heritage; and sightlines).

Please note the Inspector will determine the most appropriate procedure to adopt to hear those who have indicated that they wish to participate in hearing session(s). You may be asked to confirm your wish to participate when the Inspector has identified the matters and issues for examination.

Dear Sir or Madam

Exeter Plan

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the Exeter Plan draft. This response is made on behalf of the Dean and Chapter of Exeter, and has been prepared with input from members of the Cathedral Chapter and Fabric Advisory Committee, and the Cathedral Archaeologist.

We applaud the high aspiration of the plan in relation to Heritage and Culture. The two areas in which we wish to register a concern do not detract from the many strengths of the plan.

[Chapters 11 & 12] Our first concern is our disappointment that the cathedral features so little in the plan; a small number (seven) of largely peripheral mentions, and featuring well down a list of cultural assets. The cathedral is the city's principal tourist and cultural asset, and very largely the reason the city has the importance that it does today; the cathedral is arguably the finest intact example of late decorated gothic architecture in the country, and a major reason why people visit the city. No specific policies within the plan support or enhance the cathedral's role, or allocate the cathedral specific roles within the cultural and visitor offer of the city. We would wish to work with the city council in defining a more bespoke plan for the cathedral's place in the city plan.

[Chapters 6 & 16] Our second concern relates to the impact of tall housing development on the sightlines of the historic core of Exeter. Still today, the cathedral towers rise above the lower buildings around and can be viewed on approach road and the surrounding area. We are concerned that the new policy of encouraging high-density developments on brownfield sites, laudable in the right setting, will bring the construction of tall buildings in the walled area or immediately outside it which will cause irreparable damage the city centre's historic skyline. The developments at East Gate and outside South Gate seem to us to pose a particular risk here. The cathedral has previously made representations on this point. We welcome the Views, Density and Heights Study, which has been undertaken recently, but note that this has not issued in a specific policy in this area. We would urge adoption of this document, and taking into account a full Environmental Impact Assessment and modelling of the effect of new buildings on sightlines the city's historic core, including on the cathedral, before such buildings are committed to within the plan.

We have in earlier conversations and representations raised these concerns before, and are grateful for the ways in which these representations appear to have had some influence on the plan, and would urge far more developed proposals in these areas. Thank you for your attention to these concerns. We would wish to have the opportunity to participate in the hearing sessions.

With best wishes.
