

Resident Communication Panel

Terms of Reference

Introduction

The Resident Communication Panel is a resident-led group made up of Exeter City Council tenants and leaseholders, working in partnership with the Council to support the development and delivery of clear, accessible and engaging communications.

The panel plays a key role in co-producing resident-facing materials, including the twice-yearly Insight magazine, the Tenant Annual Report, and other publications and communications.

Through a collaborative and creative approach, panel members ensure that content reflects the priorities, experiences and diverse voices of tenants and leaseholders. By working closely with Council officers, the group helps to improve the quality, relevance and effectiveness of communications, ensuring they are informative, inclusive and responsive to the needs of all residents.

Overall objective and purpose

The overall objective of the group is to deliver communications and publications that are tenant and leaseholder-friendly, co-produced, accessible, and written in language that is easy to understand.

The purpose of the Resident Communication Panel is to bring tenants and leaseholders together with Council officers to co-produce these documents. The panel will:

- Provide a tenant and leaseholder perspective on all forms of written and digital communication
- Contribute to the development and production of key publications, including the Insight magazine and Tenant Annual Report
- Review and influence the content, format, tone and accessibility of communications before publication
- Help ensure communications are inclusive, easy to understand and tailored to a diverse audience
- Identify improvements to communication methods and channels
- Act as a “critical friend” to support the Council in delivering effective and meaningful engagement with residents

Members will work together as part of a voluntary team in partnership with the Housing Service.

- Behave in a respectful manner when a member of the panel is speaking
- Be polite and not raise their voices
- Keep to the subject under discussion
- Not raise individual issues unless as a means of illustrating a point
- Not make personal, political or religious reference

If a member does not abide by the code of conduct, the chair/lead speaker will warn them that if they break the code of conduct they may be asked to leave the meeting. If they continue to break the code of conduct they may be removed from the group

Members who fail to attend three consecutive meetings without giving apologies will be removed from the group.

Any member that breaches the Confidentially Agreement may have their membership revoked.

The group operates in an advisory capacity and does not hold decision-making authority.

Recommendations that are made by the group will be reported to senior housing management, and the Council will provide feedback on how recommendations have been considered and implemented.

Outcomes and key findings will be shared with wider groups (Council Housing and Development Advisory Board) and governance structures, and will be reported annually in the Resident Engagement and Feedback Impact Report (and internally on a quarterly basis).

Communication and Transparency

Meeting agendas and papers will be shared in advance. Minutes of meetings will be recorded and circulated following a meeting. Key outcomes will be communicated to tenants and leaseholders, where appropriate.

The group will promote openness, respect and transparency in all discussions.

Training and Support

Members will be offered training to support their role, both formally and as guidance provided by Officers to help members understand data and processes

Reasonable expenses and support may be provided to enable participation (see “Expenses and Incentives Policy”).

Equality, Diversity and Inclusion

The group will proactively champion Equality, Diversity and Inclusion, as defined in the Equality Act 2010, in everything they do. Council Officers will support members to do Equality Impact Assessments if needed for particular projects.

The Council will provide training on Equality, Diversity and Inclusion for all members.

The group will actively work to include the views of tenants and leaseholders from diverse backgrounds and will challenge discrimination if we become aware of it. Members should escalate any concerns about discrimination.

The group will strive to make everyone feel welcome and safe to participate, regardless of:

- Age
- Disability
- Gender re-assignment
- Marriage or civil partnership
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion
- Sex
- Sexual orientation.

Resident Communication Panel - Confidentiality Agreement

As a member of the Resident Communication Panel you may have access to sensitive and confidential personal and business information as a necessary part of your role.

Access to sensitive personal or business information will only be provided if it is necessary for the specific work that you are carrying out. Information is issued in confidence and on the condition that it is used solely for the purposes of carrying out your responsibilities. The information must be kept confidential at all times and should not be discussed with anyone, apart from Exeter City Council officers who have been involved in providing the information and other members of the group.

It is important to remember that the group will be consulted on issues that have not yet been made public. It would be wrong for both staff and the public to find out about proposals from group members, this information should always come from Exeter City Council. In particular you should never discuss any personal or business information with a tenant or third party unless you have been given approval by Exeter City Council.

Members of the Resident Communications Panel may be asked to review the handling of a complaint. As part of this you may become privy to personal information about the complainant, staff, and details about the complaint itself, all of which must be kept confidential.

The procedure outlined in the Terms of Reference will be followed if the confidentiality policy is breached.

Retention of Confidential Information

Confidential information obtained as part of your involvement must only be retained for as long as necessary to complete that activity and have the results ratified if necessary. Once the task is completed any data collected should be returned to Exeter City Council to destroy.

Breaches of Confidentiality Agreement

As outlined in the Code of Conduct, any member that breaches the Confidentiality Agreement may have their membership revoked.

Appropriate measures should be taken to ensure the security of any information that is shared with you by the Council. It should be noted that unauthorised disclosure of or access to the Council's sensitive or personal information may result in a monetary penalty being served on the Council or legal action being taken against you directly.

Appendix B

Expenses, Incentives and Allowance Policy for Involved Residents

1.0 Introduction

Exeter City Council values the experience and expertise of tenants and leaseholders, and the Council recognises that it is important that no one is out of pocket for volunteering. The purpose of this policy is to ensure that expenses, incentives and allowances are paid in a clear, transparent and equitable way.

This policy will cover:

- Who is eligible to receive expenses, incentives and allowances
- What expenses will be covered
- What expenses will not be covered
- How expenses, incentives and allowances will be paid

2.0 Who does this policy cover?

The provisions within this policy will apply to all tenants and leaseholders who take part in recognised engagement activities organised by Exeter City Council's Housing services.

The policy does not apply to representatives (volunteers or paid staff) from voluntary or private sector organisations who take part in these activities.

3.0 Payment of Expenses

3.1 When expenses will be paid

Expenses will be paid for residents involved in recognised Exeter City Council resident involvement activities. These include:

- Attending meetings, focus groups, panels, forums
- Training organised by Exeter City Council
- Speaking at external events and conferences
- Helping to create publications
- Carrying out duties as part of a recognised panel or group

3.2 Qualifying expenses

The following expenses will be covered:

- Child care / carer expenses
- Any other reasonable expenses that residents incur in fulfilment of their role (by prior agreement)

Expenses are limited to actual costs (evidenced by a receipt) and should not be rounded up.

Appendix A sets out limits on certain expenses. Where no limit is set the amount shall be limited to reasonable costs.

In exceptional circumstances the Council may agree to reimburse expenses over and above the limits set out in Appendix A.

3.3 Exclusions (expenses)

The following expenses will not be covered:

- Loss of earnings
- Printer/ Ink/ cartridge costs
- Internet or telephone costs
- Stationery
- Meals
- Travel expenses (this is covered under 5.0 Allowance)

The City Council can arrange for stationery, printing and will provide catering where reasonable so that involved residents are not out of pocket.

4.0 Payment of Incentives

4.1 When incentives will be paid

Incentives are used to encourage and reward tenants for their involvement with Exeter City Council Housing Services. Incentives will be paid to residents involved in recognised Exeter City Council resident involvement activities, by prior agreement and at the discretion of the City Council.

The City Council will pay incentives in a fair and equitable way with regards to protected characteristics under the Equalities Act.

In some instances incentives will come in the form of a prize draw, which the City Council will administer fairly and impartially.

4.2 Format of incentives

If the City Council wishes to incentivise an activity they will set the amount and format of incentive. Incentives might come in the form of money, vouchers or items.

4.3 Exclusions (incentives)

It may be that there are times when incentives are not appropriate, for example if there is a clear conflict of interest, or if residents have failed to adhere to the terms and conditions or code of conduct of a particular groups

5.0 Allowances for Travel

The City Council recognises that involved residents will often have to travel to attend meetings or to participate in recognised activities.

Travel expenses are not a qualifying expense, however, an allowance of £10 per meeting will be payable to cover such costs as mileage, parking, or public transportation. This will be provided in the form of a gift card.

6.0 How expenses, incentives and allowances will be paid

Payments will be made by BACS payment or voucher.

To claim a voucher residents must provide:

- A completed and signed claim form for each activity (Appendix B)
- All relevant receipts/ train tickets

The claim forms and supporting details must be provided to the person facilitating the activity within 5 working days of attendance at the activity.

In some instances involved residents may be paid in the form of gift vouchers or gift cards.

6.0 Financial Implications and taxes

Claiming and receiving payment for contributing to the Council's Housing Services may impact on your income. It is your responsibility to seek professional advice and declare payments in relation to tax, benefits and earnings.

This reward arrangement does not represent employment and should not be considered as a replacement for seeking employment.
